The Mint of the United States at Philadelphia,

Superintendent's Office,

Chicago April 22 1893.

Col. A. E. Boxbyshell

Supt.

Dear Sir ..

Thank God for some sunshine. it is absolutely impossible to give you any idea of the condition of things out here, since last Monday it has been one continuous down pour of rain snow and hail, with a fierce cold East wend. The mud and slop in and near the fair grounds is indescribable, I have lived the entire week in gum boots and gum coat and it has been one continuous wade in mud ankle deep

Work has been carried on at the greatest disadvantage owing to the great cold making it necessary for us to keep bundled up all day long in our coats and storm clothes. Mr. Heinz yesterday afternoon just as we quit work for the day had a very severe chill but this morning was feeling all right.

The coming press is all up and one line of shafting in the basement erected. That was the coldest place I have struck for some time as there is some six feet of snow down there which was shoveled through the floor.

Mr. Heinz is making very

Rapid work with his cases and I can see nothing to prevent having the whole affair complete by opening day, and it will certainly make a very pretty display.

Captain Ayton I believe came back to day but I have not met him as I gave my letter of introduction to his assistant Mr. Lightbody.

Have the vouchers covering our traveling expenses reached you? Monday next I will mail you vouchers covering our first weeks subsistence.

Yours Very Respectfully
Nathan S. Beekley

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 181

The Mint of the United States at Philadelphia,
Superintendent's Office,
Chicago,
April 22, 1893

Col. O.C. Bosbyshell
Supt.

Dear Sir.

Thank God for some sunshine it is absolutely impossible to give you any idea of the condition of things out here, since last Monday it has been one continuous down pour of rain, snow and hail with a fierce cold East wind. The wind and slop in and near the fair grounds is indescribable, I have lived the entire week in gum books and gum coat and it has been one continuous wade in mid ankle deep.

Work has been carried on at the greatest disadvantage owing to the great cold making it necessary for us to keep bundled up all day long in our coat and storm clothes. Mr. Heim yesterday afternoon just as we quit work for the day had a very severe chill but this morning was feeling all right.

The coining press is all up and one line of shafting in the basement erected. That was the coldest place I have struck for some time as there is some six feet of snow down there which was shoveled through the floor.

Mr. Heim is making very rapid work with his cases and I can see nothing to prevent having the whole affair complete by opening day, and it will certainly make a very pretty display.

Captain Aytoun I believe came back today but I have not met him as I gave my letter of introduction to his assistant Mr. Lightbody.

Have the vouchers covering our traveling expenses reached you?

Monday next I will mail you vouchers covering our first weeks subsistence.

Yours Very Respectfully
Nathan S. Beekley